

DAILY PLANET

ALL THE NEWS THAT FITS

Wednesday, Jan. 31

2001

Superfund cleanup meeting set Feb. 6 at Huntsville library

A public information meeting will be from 6:30-8:30 p.m. Feb. 6 at the Huntsville-Madison County Public Library at 915 Monroe St. The meeting provides an opportunity to learn about and comment on NASA's plan for sites at the Marshall Center identified as part of the federal Superfund Cleanup Program.

NASA Exchange Space Shop closed Wednesday for inventory

Leadership forum 1-2 p.m. Thursday, Morris Auditorium

Composite materials course for engineers set Feb. 12-13

A course on the theory and application of composite materials will air from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. Feb. 12 and 13 on Marshall's Continual Learning Channel 14. This course is aimed at employees with a technical background, but with no experience with composite materials. To register, e-mail your first and last names to: edtec@msfc.nasa.gov

Fireside chat videos available

Videotapes are available for a series of fireside chats on Huntsville's space exploration history held last year at the University of Alabama in Huntsville. Copies of the five-hour VHS tape are $19.95, plus $2 for postage and shipping. To order, call Ed Buckbee, president of the NASA-Marshall Retirees Association, at (256) 881-9622 or send e-mail to: buckbee@air-space.com

Watch Payload Operations Center grand opening at 10 a.m. Friday on Centerwide TV